

4 DAY DIE HEL IN GAMKASKLOOF TOUR

Guided Off Road Tour - An Off Road Extreme

Gamkaskloof, or 'Die Hel', as it is also known, is a small section of the Swartberg Nature Reserve, a mountain catchment area of approximately 129 000 hectares. Die Hel can only be approached from Prince Albert or Oudtshoorn via the Swartberg Pass and was until the 1900s home to a small white community almost completely cut off from the rest of the world. How and why they moved there seems to be purely speculative. This amazing trip brings you from Cape Town along Route 62 to Oudtshoorn, from here we will journey to Gamkaskloof and back over the Swartberg Pass to Prince Albert. The next day is spent travelling some little known dirt paths to Montague before we return to Cape Town. We recommend doing this ride on the smaller bikes. A minimum of two riders are required for a full guided experience.

DAY 2

A day spent discovering the remote wilderness of the Swartberg Nature Reserve. Riding up Swartberg Pass and continuing into the mountains until we reach the fertile valley of Gamkaskloof, due to its remoteness it is also known as “Die Hel”. After exploring the valley we backtrack towards the Swartberg Pass. The night will be spent in Prince Albert, a typical little Karoo ‘dorpie’ with its Cape Dutch homes. Approximately 120 km gravel.

DAY 3

From Prince Albert, we take some little known gravel paths which take us through the enchanting landscapes of the semi-desert known as the Karoo along the foot of the Swartberg mountains to Montague where we stop for the night. Approximately 300km – 200 on gravel.

DAY 4

From Montague we tackle the Drakenstein Mountains and return to Cape Town via some scenic mountain passes through the Cape Winelands. Approximately 250km.
